The Fifth Banner Year for AMERICAN and ENGLISH GROWN TULIP BULBS

We had fondly hoped that we could assure our clientele that Dutch Tulips would be available to supplement the established American grown bulbs. This may have been possible, and can still be possible if the inevitable Nazi collapse and capitulation occurs before October 1st.

Even then, the supply of Dutch Tulips would be problematical. No one knows definitely the position of the Holland bulb growers. It may be years before Tulips and other bulbs will again be available from Holland. Then again we may be pleasantly surprised.

The main thing right now is that we have splendid American grown bulbs, maybe not enough to meet the demand, but reasonably priced especially in this ADVANCE BULB FOLDER. Prices listed here are good until SEPTEMBER 15TH only, and they represent a saving of 15% below our regular Fall Bulb Catalog prices.

To assure full delivery at a definite saving, we suggest placing your order without delay.

AMERICAN Grown TULIPS

The outstanding feature of American grown Tulips is that they are earlier flowering than the Dutch or English. Because of this early flowering, the blooms last considerably longer in the garden as they bloom before the late hot May sun appears. It is our truthful opinion that the American and English Tulips "beat the Dutch." All top size bulbs.
